Next: Sat 7/18 (4:10) & Sun 7/19 (1:35) vs. Rays, then Orioles (7/20–22) and Blue Jays (7/24–26) at Fenway

STATE OF THE SOX

- Boston is 47-48 (3rd, AL East, -9.5) and pulled even with Seattle for the final AL Wild Card spot by blasting Tampa Bay 10-0 in Game 1 of today's doubleheader (other clubs' 7/17 results not yet reflected in the WC table below — treat as approximate).
- The Game 1 win made it 10 straight, capped by a 9-0 road trip — sweeps of the Angels, White Sox, and Mets — Boston's first unbeaten trip of that length since 1977.
- 14-2 in the last 16 games; 17-5 in the last 22, among the hottest stretches in MLB.
- Road warriors no more, at least for a day: today's Fenway win pulled the Sox to 18-27 at home vs. 29-21 on the road — still a wide reverse split.

ALL-STAR RECAP

- Four Red Sox represented Boston in Tuesday's AL 4-0 win: LHP Aroldis Chapman, 1B Willson Contreras, OF Cedanne Rafaela, and LHP Ranger Suárez (Contreras & Rafaela were injury replacements for Guerrero Jr. and Judge).
- Chapman worked the 9th alongside Bryan Baker, striking out Home Run Derby champ Jordan Walker and getting Matt Olson to pop out — the first All-Star Game shutout since 2013 (no save awarded in ASG play). He'd already passed Hoyt Wilhelm for the all-time relief-strikeout record (1,364 K) on July 4 vs. the Angels; his season save total sits at 17.
- Suárez did not pitch — he landed on the 15-day IL (groin) just before the break.

TODAY'S DOUBLEHEADER VS. TAMPA BAY

- Boston opened the second half by routing the AL East-leading Rays 10-0 in Game 1 of today's day-night doubleheader (making up the 5/9 rainout) — recap and starter breakdown, Page 2.

- Jake Bennett tossed six one-hit, shutout innings; Masataka Yoshida and Carlos Narváez each homered, and Boston out-hit Tampa Bay 15-3. Alex (listed on the 40-man as Alec) Gamboa worked the final three for his first career save.
- Game 2 (7:10 p.m., LHP Eduardo Rivera vs. RHP Mason Englert) was underway as this edition went to press, with Tampa Bay ahead 2-0 in the top of the 1st.
- Homestand continues vs. Baltimore (7/20-22) and Toronto (7/24-26) before a West Coast trip to the Athletics and Dodgers ahead of the Aug. 3 deadline.

THE 5-RUN RECIPE

- Cook up five and dinner is served: Boston is 32-9 when scoring 5+ runs, but a grim 14-39 when held to four or fewer. The lineup, not the bullpen, has been the season's on/off switch.

ROAD SWEET ROAD

- The Sox are 29-21 on the road but just 18-27 at Fenway (after today's Game 1 win) — an 11-game reverse split. For a team that sells out the Fens, home cooking has been the problem, not the cure.
- Their 9-0 road trip (first since 1977) outscored the Angels, White Sox, and Mets by a combined 48-14. Boston left home 11 games under .500 (37-48 on July 1) and returned a half-game from a playoff spot.

TEN IN A ROW

- Boston's Game 1 rout made it 10 consecutive wins, its longest streak since last July, and moved the Sox to within one game of .500 for the first time since Game 3 of this season. Yoshida (3-for-5, HR) and Narváez (3-for-4, HR, 3 RBI) each had three-hit days, and the Sox out-hit Tampa Bay 15-3.

CUBAN MISSILE, STILL FIRING

- At 38 years young, Aroldis Chapman became baseball's all-time leader in relief strikeouts (1,364, passing Hoyt Wilhelm) on July 4 vs. the Angels — then helped close out the All-Star Game's first shutout since 2013 a week and a half later. He leads the club with 17 saves. The oldest flamethrower in the sport hasn't lost a tick.

ODDS & ENDS

- Cycle-logical: Andruw Monasterio hit for the cycle on 4/25 at Baltimore, the centerpiece of a 17-1 rout — Boston's biggest win of the year.
- Coin-flip October rehearsal: the Sox are 3-3 in extra innings, with two walk-off wins

The 36-year-old righty, DFA'd and briefly a free agent, is back with the organization on a MiLB contract and will report to Triple-A Worcester as bullpen depth for the stretch run.

Deadline: Mon., Aug. 3, 6:00 p.m. ET
Contreras (no-trade clause) says he wants to stay; Chapman remains the more plausible chip if Boston pivots to selling. Hot streak has front office reportedly leaning toward buying.

Sources & methodology (updated evening of 7/17, after Game 1): This is a same-day refresh of the edition produced earlier this morning, which had gone to press before today's doubleheader started. Baseball-Reference's 2026 BOS schedule/scores page was re-fetched again this run and remains stuck on the same stale cache reported all week (last actual completed game shown is Game 64/June 8, revised timestamp 6/9); games 65–94 continue to rely on the previously cross-verified reconstruction (live box
